

A Real Good Honest Medicine.

"As a real good honest medicine worthy the endorsement and confidence of women, I place Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription ahead of any on the market," writes Mrs. Sarah Bryant, President Memphis Social Science Club, residing at 271 Atkinson Avenue, Memphis, Tenn. "I suffered with delicate health for three years, trying doctors' prescriptions and patent medicines until I lost courage and thought I would never regain my health; but a few doses of your medicine made me change my mind. Could see a decided change from the first, so I kept on taking it for three months faithfully, and am in perfect health. Am very grateful, for nothing is so precious as good health."

"Nothing is so precious as good health," but next to having good health the best thing is to know how it may be obtained. Mrs. Bryant's experience is that of thousands of other women. Years of suffering. Doctors' prescriptions and patent medicines used in vain. Courage and hope lost; then a faithful trial of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, with the usual result—a complete cure and perfect health.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures forty-nine out of fifty sick women who give it a conscientious trial. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It cures headache, backache, sideache and other results of womanly disease. It tranquilizes the nerves and encourages the appetite. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. The dealer who offers a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" does so to gain the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines. His profit is your loss, therefore accept no substitute.

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advice is sent FREE on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing ONLY. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

The President of Ann Arbor University, who has 3,000 students under his observation, has come to the conclusion that their morals average better than among the same number of young people who are not in college.

Candidate Fairbanks is greatly elated by the enthusiasm with which Hemenway, Crumpacker, Landis, Overstreet, Durbin and Harry New are going for his seat in the Senate while he holds it down solid himself.

Secretary Hay paid a great compliment to the city of Boston when he said no place could be more suitable for the meeting of the parliament of peace than that high-hearted city, which had been for nearly 300 years the birth-place and the home of every idea of progress and enlightenment which has germinated in this western world.

It is proposed to introduce into Denmark the whipping post for thugs. Several might be erected in San Francisco, and used to advantage, for according to Gen. Greene, and the press of that city, the town is infested with thugs. Not long since one of these detestable creatures murdered a young Washington lawyer while on his way to Manila.

Until recently there was a Punch Bowl Club in London, just off of Oxford street, but it has come to the auctioneers hammer. The big beams which ran across underneath the roof were hung with trophies from everywhere—knobkerries, snowshoes, lariats, sja m b o k s, skulls, head dresses, Boer flags, and not the least interesting of all a copy of the much talked of American "big stick."

The further the Archbishop of Canterbury goes in this country, and the more he sees, the more astonished he becomes. Speaking a few days since to an audience of 1,000 young ladies at the Wadleigh High School in New York city, he said: "My most earnest desire is to understand rightly what is being done in the United States." He added that it was the first opportunity he had ever had of being present at such a school, and he hoped to make it bear fruit in other lands than this.

The municipalization of British tramways is making steady progress. Under municipal ownership and central management it is thought the trolley system of England will be enormously increased. With a cheap and expeditious means of conveyance between producer and consumer the English people expect that much of the food stuff now obtained from abroad may be replaced by that produced at home.

Americans will be prepared to read Mr. Mosely's report of his Educational Commission to this country with a certain amount of circumspection when they learn that he has declined to publish the report of three of the Commissioners because they acknowledge the superiority of the American educational system as compared with the English.

Lord Brassey in a recent address before the Manchester, England, Chamber of Commerce said that "well paid workers fully earned their high wages."

A result of the elevation of the fighting man to the foremost officers towards both civilians and the unfortunate enlisted men subjected to their tyranny. More than a thousand specifications of cruelty brought against one army officer in December last and fifteen hundred and twenty against a sergeant, are reckoned ordinary cases, and luckless privates are known to have been tortured to death by these scions of a "superior class." Punishment of such offenders is either dispensed with or rendered farcical by its leniency. The whole world remembers the brutal murder of a civilian schoolmate who too familiarly saluted a young naval subaltern, and how the Emperor condoned it.

Cairo, Egypt, has the oldest herbarium in the world, next to the one in the Department of Agriculture in the United States. It consists of a collection of dried plants taken from the wreaths and garlands found in mummy cases, and from the edible plants which were set in earthenware vessels on the floor of the sepulchres. Some of these, when treated with warm water, are found to be remarkably well preserved. This announcement will be of great interest to Secretary Wilson who is on a still hunt the world over to secure new plants for American farmers.

The steamboat company of New York which owned the Slocum says that "the charge that there were a number of life preservers on the Slocum unfit for use does not constitute a crime." There is a great deal of diabolical roguery now-a-days which is not criminal according to law, but it is high time this, and similar charges, shall constitute crimes. Let us hope the next Congress will define these new crimes and fix a heavy penalty.

The Gurney incident is declared "closed" because that British functionary refuses either to pay his fine or apologize for breaking the laws of Massachusetts. But now comes a dispatch from Dublin saying that Platt, the acting American consul was arrested for driving a motor cycle at excessive speed, drawing a trailer containing a lady. His lawyer suggested that his client was not liable to prosecution, but Platt paid his fine.

Mexico has a tree known as the needle-and-thread, the Maguay. At the tip of each dark green leaf is a slender thorn needle that must be carefully drawn from its sheath. As this is done the thread, a strong smooth fiber attached to the needle and capable of being drawn out to a great length slowly unwinds itself.
